ANOTHER CHAPTER IN INTERPRETER AFFAIR

According to a report current yesterday there is going to be a second chapter to a little novel that was almost written in the police court when Judge Lymer held down the bench. At that time certain letters were received by him asking for the removal of Joseph Deas, the Portuguese interpreter, on the grounds of incompetency. Deas was not removed, as the reasons for the complaint were known, and now it is said that the signatories of the letters are going to deny that they ever wrote them.

The letters were from Doctor Gaspar and du Roi. It was supposed that the action was taken by the former, at least, because he had been dropped as the official physician of the Hawaiian Society at Deas' motion. Deas then being a director of the society.

It is said that Judge Lymer wrote them both a courteous little note telling them to mind their own business and he would run his police court. Likewise, no one believed the charges of incompetency against Deas and so nothing happened.

FLORAL PARADE IS SHAPING UP

Director Wall Will Have King and Queen and Maybe Pinafore on Ship.

Royalty in the shape of a King and Queen for the coming Floral Parade is the big idea which Director Arthur Wall is working on at present, and he believes he will have the most gorgeous pageant of the kind ever seen.

"I am planning to have this a particularly Hawaiian scheme," said Mr. Wall in discussing the matter, "and I want something which can be seen here and nowhere else in the world."

"Other carnivals have kings and queens, but here I am planning to have the old royal retinue in the costumes they used to wear to wait on the former kings and queens of Hawaii, and I believe it will be a huge success," he said.

Committees Working.

All the committees of the big carnival are already at work and matters are progressing slowly and surely to an end which will give the public the greatest carnival ever on February 21 and 22 next.

This year the committees are getting to work several months earlier than ever before, and everything is going to be in shape much earlier and without the haste and rush that has characterized the last weeks before the floral parade in previous years.

Three Big Events.

"It is rumored that the Elks will have no carnival next year," said Mr. Wall, "and in that case I am going to have an entertainment for the night of the 21st, the parade on the following day, and that evening the Japanese lantern parade will be held."

"For the night of the 21st I am planning 'Pinafore' to be given on a ship in the harbor, and at the same time have a big water parade that will be the finest of anything ever seen here."

"On the following day there will be the regular Floral Parade with this new and striking feature of the Hawaiian king and queen with their retinues, and then in the evening the mammoth Japanese lantern parade, which will be a fitting close to the yearly celebration. By the time that lantern parade is over I shall have done enough, I think," concluded the director.

CALIFORNIA WOMEN MUST WAIT AWHILE

SAN FRANCISCO, October 11.—The returns received from the polls in the special election held yesterday for the adoption or rejection of various amendments to the State constitution indicate that the referendum, the initiative and the recall amendments have been carried by overwhelming majorities.

Constitutional amendment No. 8, whereby the right of suffrage was to be extended to women, is defeated.

Were Too Bager.

LOS ANGELES, October 10.—Such riotous scenes attended the election today in which the ballot for the women of California is the issue that the police were forced to interfere. Overzealous suffragists were restrained by the police.

TERRITORIAL WORK PROPOSED FOR HILO

Railway Approach to Wharf Is Planned—To Move Armory Eventually.

(Mail Special to The Advertiser.)

HILO, October 7.—Superintendent of Public Works Marston Campbell, who was in Hilo for a few days this week in order to attend the meeting of the belt road commission, was able to give out much interesting information in regard to matters affecting Hilo which are now under consideration in Honolulu.

Campbell is a member of the territorial wharf commission, and he stated that, that organization expected to tackle the question of the wharf at Reed's Bay in the near future. This was a very complicated matter owing to the fact that it involved a number of minor questions, all of which had to be solved before the main problem could be tackled.

The commission was now waiting for the preparation of an agreement between the Hilo Railroad Company and the Territory, as was required by the law which made the appropriation for the wharf. This agreement Campbell expected would reach Honolulu in the same steamer as himself. Besides this, there had to be agreements made with the steamship companies so as to insure that they would have their vessels use the new wharf.

Railroad Right of Way.

A very important and quiet complicated question in connection with the wharf was that of laying out a street on which the railroads could lay their tracks to the wharf.

"You notice that I said railroads, in the plural," said Campbell while on this subject. "That means that no one company will have the exclusive right of approach. As a matter of fact, there is the proposed street railway, which would probably want to have its tracks extend down to the wharf. The commission will lay out a very wide street, which will be called railroad avenue, in the center of which will run the railroad tracks. On both sides of this will be streets, and it will serve as a basis for the further subdivision with streets of the tract of land which runs along the waterfront, as well as the land back thereof. I expect that in a few weeks all this will have proceeded so far that we will be able to proceed with the preparations for the actual construction of the wharf."

Armory Will Be Moved.

The opponents of the removal of the armory, who believed that the recent postponement of the sale of the site whereon the building stands, virtually meant the abandonment by the administration of the whole scheme, have another guess coming, according to Campbell.

"It was intimated to Campbell that sanguine Hiloites believed that the armory would not be moved."

"The armory will be moved," said Campbell. "Not a cent will be spent on repairing it until it has been moved. The sale has been postponed, it is true, but it has not been abandoned. The postponement was due mainly to the fact that there was no appropriation available to pay for the moving of the armory."

Board of Health Building.

"We are preparing to build a new building for the board of health offices in Hilo," continued Campbell. "We have received from Chief Sanitary Officer Bowman a number of suggestions as to what is needed, and we are working with these as a basis for our plans. It is unfortunately a rather small appropriation which we have for the purpose, only ten thousand dollars, and, owing to the location of the building in the immediate proximity of the federal building, we are trying to make it present as creditable an appearance as we can get for the small amount of money, and at the same time include all the things needed by the health officials."

"The building will be of concrete and will be one story in height. It will be so planned that it can be added to at any time or so that a second story can be built on it, when it becomes necessary to have more room."

Will Build Sidewalks.

"The plans for the new addition to the courthouse, for which an appropriation of five thousand dollars was made by the recent legislature, have been completed, and the department will advertise for bids for the construction thereof in the near future."

"The Territory is ready to build sidewalks outside its property on Front street, and will proceed to do so as soon as the county engineer has completed his plans in connection with the relocation of Ponohawai street."

STEAMER BOOKINGS ARE HEAVY FOR WINTER TOURISTS

Secretary H. P. Wood of the promotion committee in a letter written at San Francisco and received here yesterday states that the bookings for nearly every steamer leaving San Francisco for Honolulu during the winter months are heavy and that the city should have an unusually large influx of visitors.

Mr. Wood will return today, on the Makura from Vancouver having made a flying trip to the Golden Gate, thence south to Los Angeles and San Diego, then back to San Francisco, then on up to Portland, Seattle, Tacoma, Vancouver and Victoria, promoting Hawaii at every stage of the journey.

In San Francisco he had conferences with the exposition people and will probably have some concrete ideas on what the San Francisco people expect of Hawaii and what he believes Hawaii should have as an exhibit in 1915.

CLAUDIUS MORIDE COULDN'T WALK? NO!

So Hilo Supervisors Are Asked to Pay Auto Hire—Did They? Again, No!

(Mail Special to The Advertiser.)

HILO, October 6.—The supervisors have never, in spite of the assurances of a paternal territorial administration, been able to convince themselves that there was anything profitable to them in the new arrangement whereby the county gets the liquor license fees as well as the pleasure of paying the expenses of the circuit courts on this island. This week they became thoroughly convinced that they had been handed a lemon.

"We sure got one fine bunch of trouble when they placed the Kona circuit court on our hands," said one of the county fathers last week. "Talk about squandering money. They are the real master at that over there."

"Milking the county cow," commented Lyman, who, as a member of the finance committee was assisting Kauhane, another member, to sort the bills to be passed from those to be deferred or not allowed at all.

Strike One.

The above remarks refer in the main to a bunch of bills for automobiles for officials of the Kona circuit court, as well as bills for services rendered. There have from time to time been small flocks of such bills, most of them of modest amounts, which the supervisors have ignored at, but have finally passed. The straw which broke the proverbial camel's back appeared last week in the shape of a modest little demand from one T. Mori, who apparently runs an automobile for hire in Kona, for forty-eight dollars for conveying the Adonis-like form of Claudius McBride from his home to the courthouse, and from the courthouse home. The noble Claudius, who at one time was famous as the private secretary to Governor Frear, is now an attorney in Kona, but at the same time he appears to be assisted in keeping the wolf from the door by means of an employment of official court stenographer at the rate of $200 a month.

It was the bill for conveying, or "hauling," as the claimant puts it, Claudius up and down the hill daily, which made the finance committee sit up and kick. The text of the demand in its naive simplicity is as follows:

"To auto service hauling C. H. McBride, reporter of the circuit court, Territory of Hawaii, to and from his residence at Honolulu to Kailua, viz: July 13, 14, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 28, 31 and August 1, 2, 3, 4, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 14, 15 and 16, i. e., eleven days in July and thirteen days in August, 1911, a total of twenty-four days. Rate $2—$48.00."

This surprising document is O. K.'d by McBride, approved by Judge Matthewsman and signed by Mori, the claimant. As the supervisors can not see why they should pay for "hauling" any man, even Claudius, to and from the place where he toils at the rate of a modest $200 a month, the document now bears a further endorsement, namely "not allowed."

Strike Two.

Another Kona transportation bill which met the same fate was one for $3, also for automobile hire, the claimant being the same, by the courts so favored, Mori. The text of this demand reads as follows:

"Aug. 21. To auto service for two hours in re appointment of a temporary district magistrate for North Kona in place of Judge Kaulukou, who has been disqualified from serving in the case of the Territory of Hawaii vs. Kat Shong (Ch.), charged with keeping intoxicating liquor for sale, $3."

The committee made an investigation of this item. It states that it found that the temporary magistrate was taken by the auto from his house, in Kailua, to the courthouse, in the same city. The distance could be covered by a man walking in ten minutes.

As a matter of fact, in an auto one could probably circumnavigate Kailua, were there a road all around the town, several times in ten minutes. How it could take any one in an automobile two hours to cover the distance between any two points in Kailua so puzzled the finance committee that it placed the fatal "not allowed" on this demand also.

Three Times and Out.

A third demand from Kona which also caused some very pointed remarks to flow from the supervisors' lips, was another appeal for hire for Claudius.

This item read as follows: "Aug. 30. To services rendered as court stenographer of the third circuit court, Territory of Hawaii, from July 13 to August 16, 1911, both dates inclusive, at the rate of $200 per month, i. e., sixteen days at $6.45—$103.20."

The county fathers looked up the statute, and found that the Kona circuit court had been allowed $1000 a year for a stenographer. Judge Matthewsman had telephoned, said one of the clerks, that as his court was not in session all the year round, he wanted the amount paid out at the rate of $200 a month for working days. The supervisors found, however, that the Kona court had already spent no less than $500 out of its thousand dollars since July 1. In other words, in two months it had spent more than half of its sum which was to last it twelve.

"This won't do," said the finance committee members. "If this keeps up, we will soon have a demand for money above the appropriation. Then if we don't dig up, we will be blamed for trying up the court. We will defer this bill."

And there is every reason to believe that there will be a long, loud and wrathful howl from Kona in the immediate future.

CITIZEN SOLDIERS OF MAUI AT WORK

Two Companies Spend Week in Field and Wailuku Town Falls to Strategist.

(Mail Special to The Advertiser.)

WAILUKU, October 7.—The two militia companies on Maui spent the whole of this week in Camp Kamehameha on the sandhills near the beach below Wailuku for the purposes of practical military instructions, under their own officers assisted by Captain Shuttleworth and Captain Callison of the Second U. S. Infantry, with Capt. A. W. Neely of Honolulu. The encampment was no mere pleasure outing as in the good old days of the N. G. H., where close order formations, straight lines, movements in unison, and the men who personated the wooden Indian best won the praises and plaudits of commanders and spectators alike. At Camp Kamehameha, field work, open order formations, scouting parties, laborious digging of trenches, and long distance hikes over rough country were the rule, and the non-com who sent in the most intelligent report in the quickest time possible received the praises of the officers.

Company I, of Wailuku, Captain Bal commanding, mustered thirty-eight men and three officers, and Company L, of Lahaina, under Captain Kelihoi, fifty-three men and two officers. The camp consisted of two rows of large roomy tents, and other tents required by the regulations. The boys were kept busy, and if any were inclined to fix the usual string of regulation kicks they hadn't the time to do it.

Friday afternoon the companies were sent out into the field to work out a problem representing opposing forces. Company L was assigned to represent an attacking force coming in from Kahului to take the town of Wailuku, while Company I, under Captain Bal, were sent out to defend Wailuku from the enemy. Captain Kelihoi is credited with putting out so many false leads that the defenders lost much valuable time trying to head them off and missed locating the main body until Kelihoi's command emerged from the sand hills into the open fields at the edge of the town and was pronounced winner in the war game, but the defenders made up for it by opening a murderous fire and claiming the enemy was slaughtered before they could enter the town itself.

This forenoon the companies broke camp and returned to town. Captains Shuttleworth and Callison go on to Hilo by the Claudine to give Company D, some more military instructions. The officers and men all agree the week spent by them at Camp Kamehameha was the best they had in the way of getting some military science in the war game.

More Maui Contracts.

The Maui loan fund commission is getting ready to call for contracts for the erection of a reinforced concrete schoolhouse at Lahaina to cost in the neighborhood of $35,000, and of a frame building for a schoolhouse at Keanae, Maui. The fact that W. B. Patterson has assigned his belt road contracts for a bonus will, in the opinion of some of the commissioners, be made a ground for refusing to accept bids filed by him in the future.

Rev. Rowland B. Dodge gave a fish chowder party at the Alexander and Mary parsonage, Wailuku, yesterday evening. The supper was very largely attended by the good townspeople. The proceeds will go towards the building fund of the Wailuku Union church.

MAN WITH GREEN EYES NOW HAS ONE BLACK ONE

Edwin Fernandez is of the opinion that a well-planted right fist in a strategic portion of the male human anatomy is of greater benefit to business than all the mezzette arts, not excluding the advertised Green Eyes of Barnett. The Hypnotizer, or the super-aquiline proboscis and Sahara eyes of the velvet-voiced and plumpish Ayesha, both of whom were recently to be seen in Honolulu.

Fernandez conducted them to Hilo to show their magic, though the statics of that climate are not too encouraging for the exercise of hypnosis.

In Hilo the Man with the Green Eyes borrowed $25 of the promoter, or so it is alleged, giving an I. O. U., redeemable in Honolulu, for security.

Whether Barnett wiggled his fingers in Edwin's face is not known, but Edwin says he dug up the twenty-five. Or perhaps Ayesha, she with the "radiant soul" and "many candle-power eyes," said unto Edwin: "When I count three, you will dream and imagine that you are a bank and that you are paying out money to a depositor. Still! Rigid! One, two, three! Riff! Bang! Now dig!"

Fernandez endeavored to collect the $25 in Honolulu. But he had no hypnotic power. Therefore last evening he hastened to the Zealandia, which was bound for Canada, looked up the Man with the Emerald Optics and, when that individual would not "come through," changed the color of one of his eyes to a shade the color of Arael's wing.

Thereupon Ayesha, wishing to save the original color of her partner's other eye, proffered the desired $25, which was accepted.

Fernandez had the hypnotist on the hip.

ROBERT DOLLAR A COAST ENVOY

Carrying Invitation to Chinese Merchants to Tour the Coast States.

(From Wednesday's Advertiser.)

Carrying the invitation of the associated chambers of commerce of the Pacific Coast to the consolidated chambers of commerce of Chinese merchants in the principal shipping and industrial cities of the Chinese Empire, Robert Dollar, shipping magnate of the Pacific Coast and one of the best posted men regarding shipping and commercial traffic in the Pacific and the countries surrounding it, passed through Honolulu yesterday on the Pacific Mail liner Siberia.

Just a year ago yesterday, Robert Dollar was being entertained by Chinese chamber of commerce men, at the time when representatives of the Coast chambers as well as that of Honolulu, formed the party. Fred L. Waldron, one of Honolulu's representatives on that trip, greeted Mr. Dollar yesterday afternoon on the Siberia and both compared notes of the year ago visit.

The invitation will be delivered personally to the head of the consolidated chambers and it will be accepted. Fifty representatives of the Chinese merchants will form the party to make the return visit to Honolulu and the Pacific Coast and will arrive here about March 23, 1912. The Honolulu Chamber of Commerce will entertain the Chinese officers during their stay in this port.

Robert Dollar stated yesterday that the steamer Hazel Dollar, which was wrecked on the Japan coast sometime ago, was refitted and the cargo discharged at Hankow. The vessel will be overhauled and put back in the trade again.

Panama Canal to Aid.

He stated that he has formed no plans for his company whereby Honolulu will be made a regular port of call, but he expects that in the near future vessels of his line will call here frequently, and particularly on their way back from the Orient.

He believes that the Panama Canal will solve America's commercial problems with the Far East.

"The opening of the canal will permit American shipping to get into more direct touch with the markets of the Far East," said Mr. Dollar. "The visit of the American chamber of commerce representatives did America a world of good and the return visit of the Chinese representatives will do more toward consolidating the commercial pact between the United States and China than anything else. That understanding, coupled with the opening of the canal, will solve our problems and put us in the way of getting commerce with the Far East that is now taken up by foreign competitors."

"I haven't much to say of passenger business for I do not contemplate entering that field. I will stick to the freight business."

SAVANT DECLARES DEATH ENDS ALL

BERLIN, September 26.—Immortality of the soul is a myth and without scientific foundation, declares Prof. Ernest Haeckel of the University of Jena, who is generally considered the world's greatest living scientist and evolutionist. The human soul, asserts Prof. Haeckel, is only a purely physical function of the brain cells, and ceases at death.

All the productions of the human mind, insists the great savant, whether in art, literature or in any other branch of intellectual endeavor, are fundamentally mere muscular activities.

Prof. Haeckel is now in his seventy-eighth year and is still mentally and physically as active as many men of fifty.

NOREASON FOR IT

You Are Shown the Way Out.

There can be no just reason why any reader of this will continue to suffer the tortures of an aching back, the annoyance of urinary disorders, the dangers of serious kidney ills when relief is so near at hand and the most positive proof given that these ills can be cured. The following is convincing proof:

L. W. Stapleton, Spring St., Chipewah Falls, Wis., says: "I suffered from sharp twinges through the small of my back, especially if I made an awkward movement. Occasionally I had dizzy spells and black spots floated before my eyes. When Don's Backache Kidney Pills were brought to my attention, I procured a supply and after use corrected my trouble." (Statement given in February, 1905.)

A CORROBORATION.

On September 10, 1910, Mr. Stapleton added to the above: "I do not hesitate one moment in confirming my former endorsement of Don's Backache Kidney Pills. I have recommended this remedy to many other people and all who have tried it have been benefited."

Don's Backache Kidney Pills are sold by all druggists and stockholders at 50 cents per box (six boxes $2.50) or will be mailed on receipt of price by the Holstetter Drug Co., Honolulu, wholesale agents for the Hawaiian Islands. Remember the name, Don's, and take no substitute.
